

The Working Mind

The Working Mind is a training program designed to initiate a change in how you think, feel, and act about mental health. You will learn to: build mental health literacy, break down stigma, strengthen communication skills, and improve resilience

The next training session is...

Date:

Time:

Location:

Notes:

To learn more about
The Working Mind,
visit openingminds.org

